To: Elsa Richardson

Good afternoon,

I am happy to inform you that your application to 'Resistance', the Society for the Social History of Medicine's Biennial Conference has been accepted and we look forward to welcoming you to the University of Strathclyde in July.

If you are the point of contact for a panel submission could you please let the other contributors know that their papers have been accepted.

Conference registration will open at the end of March and there will be early bird rates available. Once open the conference website will also provide information regarding accommodation, travel and extracurricular activities.

A number of conference bursaries will be available to SSHM members and the application process for this will be opened with conference registration.

Do get in touch if you have any questions in the meantime.

very best wishes,

Elsa
